Foil Products

Foil Products

Properties:

• High protection from light, contaminated atmosphere, micro-organisms, odors and liquids
• Ensured medical standards of sterility by the manufacture of foils
• Protection of sensitive products in ordinary conditions for long periods of time
• offers safe and various packing formats
• Possible to use for producing collapsible tubes (which are made from alufoil lamination and does not allow air or contamination to seep through)
• With the range of mechanical properties available, products can be made more ductile, fragile or tough and can be combined with other materials like paper or plastic
• Possible to manufacture for packages that are easy to tear and open